

2009 San Juanderer

~ 39TH YEAR ~

THE AWARD-WINNING San Juanderer magazine, now in its 39th year, does double-duty when it comes to helping visitors enjoy Washington's scenic San Juan Islands. With its wide distribution ahead of peak travel season, the San Juanderer is a complete and attractive trip-planning guide. With its comprehensive coverage of the islands' attractions and events, the San Juanderer is the perfect publication for tourists to pick up when they are on their way to, or already in, the San Juans.

Advertise in the 2009 San Juanderer and you'll be targeting more than two million visitors who pass through the Anacortes ferry terminal each year. Your message will go to people planning extended vacations who want to know where to stay, where to eat and what to do in the San Juans. 45,000 copies are distributed throughout the year at prime retail businesses, hotels and motels in Anacortes, La Conner, Oak Harbor and up and down the I-5 corridor from Bellingham to Everett. The San Juanderer is also placed at Sea-Tac Airport, the Seattle Convention Center and key chamber of commerce visitor centers around the state, and inserted in the Anacortes American.

This publication will be available online for the entire tourist season at www.goskagit.com
